

The Great Wheel of the Fates: Special Creature Briefing

Lich

You are a lich, a being sustained by personal will and magical energy. By walking the Black Path or the Spiral Dance, you have placed yourself outside the cycle of life and death, gods and men. This profound transformation has both advantages and disadvantages.

The Lich in Play – Roleplaying Effects

ROLEPLAYING EFFECT: You become very risk-averse and avoid dangerous situations where possible. Avoiding physical confrontations becomes a priority in your mind. You would never even consider entering the Arena. It also means that if you are surprised in a violent situation, your reaction is likely to be brutal and lethal to secure your own safety.

ROLEPLAYING EFFECT: Philosophy and the application of magic to the universe provide the solutions to all problems great or small. Attempts to resolve issues or problems without the application of philosophy are doomed to failure. Your intellect spans the moon and stars. You have tides to regulate, comets to direct; you have no time for flatulence and orgasms.

ROLEPLAYING EFFECT: You are no longer tied to your original nationality. Appeals to your loyalty are likely to produce at best incomprehension and at worst sneers as you view the entire concept of nationhood as a trivial distraction you are glad to be rid of.

The Lich in Play: Unusual Abilities

OCCLUSION OF THE FIRST RITE: The character has broken away from the cycle of life and death and is occluded from the sight of the gods.

- He or she cannot benefit from BLESSINGS of any kind.
 - He or she cannot be the subject of a successful Funeral Rite.
 - He or she will not, after death, come before the death god of his or her pantheon.
 - He or she will not, after death, pass into the afterlife.
 - If a method is found to kill the character permanently, his or her soul will be trapped in eternal torment in his own decaying flesh.
 - He or she finds it easier to perform the Greater Mysteries associated with the Black Path.

DAGGER OF THE SECOND RITE: the dagger is bound to the philosopher's life force and if it is used to shed blood for the purposes of a Greater Mystery casting, that blood counts as double strength (i.e. satisfies the requirement for blood from two philosophers). The dagger is to all intents and purposes now an artifact and will respond to Wisdom of the Magi - please come to GOD to obtain a ribbon and lore sheet for the dagger if they are not already with this briefing.

PHYLACTERY OF THE THIRD RITE: the bonuses and regeneration effects outlined in this briefing function ONLY while the phylactery is in contact with your flesh. Should it be lost, you will be unable to use any of these abilities and you will be in grave danger.

ICHOR OF THE FOURTH RITE: you have replaced your blood with a mystical fluid of your own devising.

- You acquire all four Apply Quintessence skills if you did not previously possess them.
- Every day, you generate five quintessence of each type from the fluid that replaces your blood. You may use this pool of power to fuel mysteries you cast. Unused power pool does not stack from day to day.
- You may never again contribute blood to a mystery, but must obtain it from other philosophers using the Knife of the Second Rite.
- You may now only be affected by preparation-based lesser mysteries (that you have to drink or apply to yourself) if you choose to be.
- You no longer count as your nation for any meaningful purpose. Your body has no humours. Mysteries which influence behaviour through the humours have no effect. You are of No Nation.
- You are no longer able to procreate naturally. Your insides are made of embalmed flesh and metallic fluids. It won't end well for anyone.

COMPLETION OF THE FINAL RITE: INORGANIC PROCESS OF WILL: The brand of the Final Rite burned pout all remaining organs, which are now replaced with ever-replenishing structures made of the metallic fluid replacing your blood.

COMPLETION OF THE FINAL RITE: GATEKEEPER: Gates of Horn: Liches may utilise Gates of Horn to travel to Atlantis and back, as any traveller might; these gates largely remain open during the Annual. You may not pass through the Gate of Horn to the Map Room and the Audience Chamber beyond under any circumstances. The realms of the gods are forever lost to you.

Gates of Ivory: Liches may utilise any Gate of Ivory to enter a quest of any nation if they so choose. Equally, they may pass through a Gate of Ivory during a funeral ceremony of any nation and act as an advocate for a dead soul with a psychopomp, and then may return to Atlantis. The Psychopomp is bound to hear the lich, but may not affect it.

However, they may not, explicitly, enter an audience with a death god unless the death god invites them to do so, and under such circumstances they are extremely vulnerable. The Death god may, at will, imprison them in the underworld or extinguish their spirit, killing the character. This is the only occasion a god may interact with a lich.

The Lich in Play: Restrictions

Execution by Special Weapon

Please read this section carefully; it has changed slightly from previous Annuals.

If executed by any weapon¹ which calls “EXECUTE – PERMANENT” then the Lich will die, permanently, irrespective of however many hits they have remaining.

Any Lich may use the weapons above freely during combat, but if they use the weapons to call “EXECUTE – PERMANENT” on another unwilling special creature then they lose their special creature status including all the abilities, bonuses and powers within this document, immediately upon doing so and will probably be the subject of a powerful CURSE originating from the patron of the executed character.

Status effects

Black Path characters are not subject to status effects like HUNGER, BLAZE or BEAST.

There is no LESSER status for beings on the Black path.

There is no GREATER status for beings on the Black Path.

There is no ALL-CONSUMING status for beings on the Black Path.

Automatic Triggering of Status effects Status

Note that during the Final Annual, Status effects will trigger more often than usual as the increasing lack of Quintessence provokes the Lich.

During the Friday and Saturday of the Final Annual, your Status effects status will increase by one step at Midday and Midnight.

If you are in no status, it will automatically move into LESSER; if in LESSER it will automatically move to GREATER and if already in GREATER it will move to ALL-CONSUMING.

¹ There are currently six such weapons in the game, though the means exist at the Final Annual whereby more might be made. The existing weapons are: The Labrys, The Harpoon of Yam, The Subtle Knife, The Spear of Alexander, The Sickle of Kronus and Lucretia's Blade.

Combat Rules for the Lich: Atlantis Outside the Arena

Please read this section carefully; it has changed slightly from previous Annuals.

A Lich might be involved in combat on Atlantis outside the Arena. Under those circumstances they are obligated to use the following ruleset.

Total Body Hits: (This takes into account armour, body and all other hits:

15 hits total. This may not be increased by any means and permanently lost hits can never be recovered.

Damage Calls You Can Make:

You may not use any special call effects under Atlantis rules or when fighting on Atlantis.

Calls you can call RESIST against to treat as ONE NORMAL HIT:

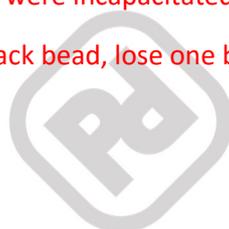

IMPALE, PARALYZE, REPEL or CRUSH at any time

Calls you cannot call RESIST to:

- STRIKEDOWN and CURSE - you cannot be subject to any mystery effect which grants resistance to these calls

Regeneration Rules:

- If reduced to zero hits/incapacitated, fall to the ground. After a slow count of ten seconds, regenerate at one hit per ten seconds to original maximum (or one less if execution).
- AT THE END OF THE BATTLE WAIT FOR PHILOSOPHER TREATMENT/BEAD PULL PROCESS TO BE COMPLETED before taking any further action. Take one extra bead pull (with replacement) for every time you were incapacitated.
- On an execution or for each black bead, lose one body hit permanently.
