This Zodiac Mystery can be used to create hypothetical thought experiments which, through the power inherent in the pivot and the Zodiac, assume reality just long enough for a Deed of Charter to form and be usable in the Arena.

These deeds can be used by the philosopher who owns them (i.e. the lead caster in this rite, who does not need to be the Zodiac chair of Cancer though they need to participate) to declare themselves a Philosopher-warleader and to bid themselves and one other warband into a single battle for "free".

Note that the deeds expire immediately after the battle is ended, which may upset the winners should they be on the other side. This rite does not offer any supernatural protection from angry opponents save three magical words "caveat emptor".

Philosopher-warleader status, once claimed, continues into the remainder of the Annual.

The three territories so described are:

Cloudcuckooland, as described by Aristophanes, in "The Birds"

Ogygia, the island home of the nymph Calypso, as described by Homer, and

Trimalchio, as described by Petronius in "The Satyricon"

This Greater Mystery may only be cast once at the Thirteenth Annual unless otherwise specified, and may only be cast under the Sign of Taurus

This sheet represents the information available through the use of the Lesser Mystery "Wisdom of the Seer" on a Greater Mystery focus. This information is valid only for the Thirteenth Annual.

This is an OOC document, but represents IC knowledge your character has gained of the purpose of the Greater Mystery and the ritual and ceremony necessary for the casting of it.
